Digital Delights

“The Change from Film to Digital Photography”

Mike Jones LRPS from the RPS Southern Region will talk about his transition to totally digital photography. Following the birth of his first son in 1985 Mike purchased his first SLR camera and attained distinction level passes in five City & Guilds modules to gain his LRPS. Mike has developed formal training sessions and road-shows in Photoshop and offers a variety of courses at centres in Hampshire. He will discuss his ‘addiction’ to digital photography.

“Selling your Photographs in the Digital & Internet Age” with Michael Huggans ARPS

Michael Huggan's photographic experience covers a wide range of subjects, from the natural world, lifestyle and corporate to Michael's passion of wildlife photography. His interest in wildlife photography heralds from many visits to the African continent, getting up close and personal with Lion, Hippo, Elephant, Leopard and Crocodile! Michael has had various pictures and articles published in a variety of magazines and photographic journals. An exhibition of his wildlife pictures has also been displayed in London and received outstanding acclaim. He has recently won a bronze medal in the RPS Nature Group competition for one of his African wildlife images.

Distinctions Advisory Session

The Distinction Workshops are part of the policy of the Society to assist the substantial part of the membership who are working towards a Distinction. RPS Panel members give both general and specific advice to anyone interested in submitting work for a Society Distinction. There will be an opportunity to view successful portfolios of work. The day will begin with an introduction to the RPS Distinctions. Each Panel member will give details of the requirements and assessment criteria for his Panel. Members of the audience will then show their work for comment.

Don't miss this opportunity – get your portfolios ready now!

Dates for your diary.....

So many people were disappointed last year when the Workshop was over-subscribed that we have decided to hold a second Distinctions Workshop in 2007 on 18th November. The categories have not yet been decided but will certainly include LRPS and A&F Visual Art. Start preparing and don't get left behind this time!

On 14th October Tony Penrose will give a talk about the work of his mother, "The Legendary Lee Miller". This is a "must see" for anyone interested in documentary photography. There will also be another speaker on documentary photography or visual journalism.

Bill Jackson from London will visit the region on 16th September together with other members of the RPS Contemporary Group. Bill has produced some exquisite limited edition prints, some with the addition of gold leaf, and this will be a rare opportunity to talk to him and see his photography.

Full details and booking forms for these three events will be in the next Regional Newsletter.

Photography Discussion & AGM

An afternoon meeting at the National Media Museum. Bring along some images for discussion – perhaps a recent successful distinction panel, exhibition prints or a personal project. The afternoon will include the Regional Annual General Meeting.
